DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Canton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was pleuris of the lungs, and another told me it was a growth of tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I was always at certain periods, and never was regular, and the pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor said I must have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I told a sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which proved expensive. I have found the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me and I did not have to have the operation after all. The compound will be worth the money through Cancer and Life."—Mrs. LETTIE BLAKE, Canton, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be a successful remedy for many of the various forms of female ills, including discharges, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irritable periods, jaundice, hysteria, heart and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to suffering women.

CHEW
DIXIE TOBACCO

Homelike

A man entered an eating house, and ordered a steak and fried potatoes. "Yes, sir, steak and potatoes, sir," said the waiter. "And will you have chips and potato soup with it?"

"Roast beef, then, perhaps, sir? The roast beef's very fine today."

"No, just steak and potatoes."

"How about a nice lobster or a lunch of oysters, sir, with that steak?"

"No."

"Ham and sweetbreads, perhaps, sir?"

"No, I'll tell you."

"A nice mess of fried catfish and grits?"

But at this point the proprietor summed up his desire to him.

"What do you mean you scoundrel?" he said, "by tormenting that patron in such an outrageous manner?"

"I was tormenting him, sir," said the waiter. "I was just trying to make him fed at home. He's a barger."—Edmund Head.

The Truth at a Pinch

He was a lawyer, and he decided that his child should follow in his foot steps.

"Always remember that good lawyers work hard, my boy," he said. "They read thoughtfully, forget nothing, wash their faces before and after every meal, and never speak with their mouths full."

Bob stopped.

"And do they go to bed when they are told?"

"Yes, my lad," replied papa.

"Will they tell the truth?"

"It's papa's turn to blink."

"Yes, my boy, do," he replied at length. "Lawyers will do anything to win a case."

On the Right Road

"Maybe we shall have them yet," said the first with a smile, "but I think the last will be a shoulder as the committee has put the last nail on and begun whetting his knife."

"What?" asked the second mischievously.

"The road to a man's soul lies in the same direction as the road to his heart—through his stomach,"—Lippincott's.

Cought

"You look warn."

"I have been chasing a hat."

"Did your boy blow off?"

"It wasn't my fault, it belonged to another, and it had a pretty girl under it."

"You can catch it?"

"Yes. My wife saw me chase it,"—Houston Post.

The Beauty of a Clean Skin—The smoothness of the skin is a mark of health. A discolored liver causes discoloration in the blood and these show themselves in the skin. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Pills are acting upon the liver and spleen, and the blood is purified with full intelligent use of this standard medicine. Ladies, who will not be deceived by the quack, can cure themselves with these pills. You can then with the certainty that the effect will be most gratifying.

Ready for Work

"Now," said the woman to the finger, "you are all dressed up at the prison, we'll set you to work. What can you do best?"

"Well, if you'll give me a week's practice on your signature, I'll sign your official papers for you,"—Tibbits.

His Prospect

Her Prospects—There are no grounds on which your father could think of.

His Prospects—No, not in the front of the house, but there's a bed of gladiolas in the back yard which looks quite soft. Brooklyn L.

When going away from home, or at any change of habitation, it is a wise plan to have a copy of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's "Dietary Cordial" and "Dietary Guide." In many places where there are no doctors may bring on an attack of disease. He can hardly afford to be without hand work which to cope with the disorder, and foremost should fight the all-around and subdue it.

Horrific Mention

It was after the distribution of prizes at a Sunday school.

"Well, did you get a prize?" asked John's mother.

"No," answered Johnny, "but I got a horrific mention."

The time for staining the stable is over, and wet days and spotty time can be most suitably spent in preparing the stables for the winter season. Repairing and cleaning are necessary every year.

"What did you do when you met the train robber face to face?" I explained that I had been interviewed by the ticket collector, the carriage cleaner, the dining car waiters, and the sleeping car porters and bowed a dollar from him."—Washington Star.

"What can ever play in 'Hamlet'?" I inquired a theatrical manager of a recent audition to his company.

"Ever," I explained, "the newspaper says, 'What you play in every handbag, Potholder.'

Beesie: "Do you say your prayers every night?"

"Jessie," I did, "but I have got a new dress and doll baby couch, and everything I want just now."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Two boys were discussing a map of Ireland when the boy I been examining said Harry, "But I think Dublin should be higher up than they have it there—ain't you think so?"

George replied, "I think so, too, but I must say, these maps are quite misleading."

George replied, "These maps are quite misleading. They're done to scale, and they ought to know."

Harry gave a doubtful assent. "I suppose they're quite good, and they ought to know,"—Tibbits.

PROOF FOR WOMAN WHO STILL SUFFER

THAT THEY CAN FIND RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Mrs. Lois McKay suffered from Pains in the Back, Side and in the region of the Heart—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her.

Tibbets' Ledger, Co., N. S.—Every girl is bound to bring a message of cheer for the weak, run-down women of Canada. Today's message comes from Mrs. Lois McKay, a well-known resident in this place. She, like many others, can now find new life in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Before I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, I was Miserable, sat at nothing, had a bad pain in my back and side, pains in my bowls and sharp cutting pains around the heart."

"I was always tired. Sometimes when I sat down I could hardly get up again. The clean, clear, message from Dodd's Kidney Pills, my pain is all gone and my back is well. I have given proof for myself that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best medicine for those who are suffering from the same trouble."

Horrific Change

"Well, boy, what do you know? Can you write a business letter? Can you?"

"Please, sir," said the applicant for the job, "we didn't go in very much for those studies at our school. But I'm up on overhead or clay modeling,"—Carter-Journal.

H. E. OSMOND, EDITOR.

Again the time of year is around when preparations should be started to procure proper candidates for public office for the following year. Nomination day for Mayor, Town Councillors and school trustees is at hand, in fact is only a week or two away, and there is none too much time to single out the men who are capable and willing to take these positions of public trust, not for the "fifth lucre" there is in the job, (or they will get left) but as a duty to themselves and the general welfare of this great town of Didsbury. And this also applies to the Local Improvement districts who will have to elect Councillors this year. The bill for forming the local improvement districts into municipalities will likely be put through the local house at this session and may become law next year, which means that considerable changes will be made in a great many ways. Whether the Councillors elected this year, or rather at this election, will still hold office or whether new Councillors will have to be elected does not make much difference the proposition is the same. Take a little time among yourselves and get the best men you possibly can to control your public affairs.

Again going back to town nominations. There was some kicking among the ratepayers on the side this year because there were not enough candidates put up last year for election so that they could have their choice. This is entirely the fault of the ratepayers. Some of them object to take these positions because, forsooth, they are afraid it will hurt their business! Others again are willing to let the other fellow do all the work and stand all the kicking because they like to stand aside and object to everything that is done instead of putting a helping hand to the wheel of progress and taking these positions themselves.

When the business men of this town, who are generally the heaviest taxpayers, realize more thoroughly that it is their business which is being conducted by these public bodies, perhaps they will take more interest in taking these positions themselves or seeing that enough candidates are brought out to give them a choice. It's up to you, taxpayers of the town of Didsbury.

The town fire bell still hangs in the fire hall--on the floor. Visitors are requested, when visiting the fire hall, to make no remarks as to its use in its present position or how long it has been there. They can gaze on it in silent awe and try to figure out how much interest the money would have been drawing that was expended on the bell if the manufacturers had still retained it and the money was in the town treasury.

One helper about 3 years old, no bands visible, is a reddish roan, with white face, white feet. This animal is in the Didsbury town pound and owner should apply to A. P. ENEVOLDSEN, Poundkeeper.

The hitch seems to be that a steel tower for the bell was ordered some months ago from the manufacturers but it has not been received yet. How many of us who use machinery after ordering something new and giving a reasonable time for its delivery would stand for this. Some of us would be for canceling the order.

Anyway, a substantial wood tower would have answered the purpose just as well and been a good deal cheaper, besides the bell would have been in place long before this. The season is now here, in fact has been here for some time, when every precaution that could be taken, and when every fire appliance that we are able to control should be in place and condition for immediate use.

The present Council have carried out one policy, that of keeping the streets, sidewalks and crossings in good repair. The streets are in better shape now than they have ever been. Coun. St. Clair, chairman of the Board of Public Works, is largely responsible for this, but this Councillor is one who retires this year. In our opinion Coun. St. Clair should be unanimously re-elected to the Board. Perhaps he is unwilling to undertake these onerous duties again as he has spent a good deal of time in the last two years in one way and another in public duties, but it is such men who are wanted and it is to be hoped that the taxpayers will induce Mr. St. Clair to again become a candidate for re-election and we have not much doubt but that he will be returned with a large majority.

Mr. Clarence de Sola of Montreal is the head and shoulders of the Zionist movement in Canada, the movement which has taken root in the old Canadian street community of Montreal. The humor master registered 200 Silver stars, and there was a blizzard when the stars were frozen, and the snow was being blown by a few candle sticks in the mouths of old bottles. Amid such dim and discouraging surroundings the young man who was born in Canada, Mr. de Sola proposed the meeting which gave birth to the society. There was a handful of Hebrews present, many of them newly arrived immigrants, but it was not many, and before the movement had spread to Toronto, the movement had spread to London, to the Northwest. Mr. Clarence de Sola, the president of the Federation of Zionist Societies of Canada, is one of the most representative Jewish citizens of the Dominion. The son of one Jewish rabbi and the brother of another, Mr. de Sola is a Hebrew of the Hebrews of the Hebrews, a man whose broad minded but with the infatuation of the religious faith in the destiny of his race and with the Zionist movement very close to his heart. Mr. de Sola writes that the Jew, the Englishman or the Scotswoman in Canada should hold his own as a Canadian citizen and not as a man born of a foreign race.

When Mr. de Sola is not propagating the Zionist cause he is filling the chair of the Canadian manager of the Montreal Fur Importing and Exporting firm of British skin dealers in Canada. Whole lead to his race and religion, Mr. de Sola is a patriotic Canadian, and above all, a good citizen—Canadian Citizen.

Why the Bursar Laughed.

One of the most interesting stories of the year is the one related by Canon H. H. H. of St. Peter's, Walworth, England who years ago was chaplain at Cliftonwell and Parkgate. The Canon came to Canada to bring a bursar, a man of slender legs, lumboscoliosis, and a photograph of Charles Ponson, once a member of his congregation, to the bursar's office on Bloor Street and tells a good story of a bursar who used to carry pieces of Asturian hives for silencing dogs. The bursar entered the house and said, "I'm here to bring you a bursar, a man of slender legs, lumboscoliosis, and a photograph of Charles Ponson, once a member of your congregation, to the bursar's office on Bloor Street and tell a good story of a bursar who used to carry pieces of Asturian hives for silencing dogs." The bursar entered the house and at once produced the hives. The animal did not move, and on close inspection the bursar did not notice that the dog was dead. "Where's the job he's here for?" thought, and laughed so merrily that the members of the household awoke and he was caught.

Transatlantic Record.

Mr. J. W. Alexander, chief engineer of the Oceanic, and the senior chief engineer in the White Star Co.'s service, has been to the United States and the Atlantic 22 times. During the thirty-eight and a half years of his seafaring life he has never missed a voyage. He has been to the Arctic, the South Seas, the Mediterranean, the Red Sea, the Persian Gulf, and the Indian Ocean. He has been to the White Star Fleet. It is computed that he has traveled 300,000 miles at sea. Mr. Alexander completed his 22nd voyage last year, having carried on vessels named Oceanic.

A Problem.

The problem may very much prove to be a difficult one. Who would be more qualified to be the man who would be sent to see the world? —Washington Star.

HEROISM IN LABRADOR.

Work of the Moravian Brethren in Canada's Frozen Land.

In Chambers' Journal, H. Hesketh Prichard has an article on the Moravians in the St. Lawrence River. All the world over, he writes, are set the missionary outposts of the Moravian Church, and their converts outnumber the members of the parent establishment in the proportion of five to one. The record shows that this most epicene and stern of all their laborers reach strange races—Toboggans, Eskimos, Alaskans, hunters, trappers, etc.—yet few of them understand anything of the work that they are doing. After close upon two hundred years of missionary effort they remain unknown to the general public. They have never written a book, and in the rare instances when the word Moravian finds its way into the papers, it is generally in connection with the name of the Moravians in a Moravian mission station or community in a Moravian mission setting mentioned before proceeding on his voyage. Far away on the shores of the sea of Labrador the Moravians set their stations, houses of the Moravian Brethren, and silently and steadily they pursue their work.

Nowhere is this work more interesting than in Labrador, where, at the six stations scattered over some five hundred miles of a coast bitterly frozen in winter, the task is hardly matched in modern times. In 1850 a Moravian, having visited a successful Moravian settlement in Greenland, petitioned his superiors to be allowed to found a similar one in Labrador. Two years later he landed with four other brethren, and, after building a house for the mission, and, in his companion, were tragically murdered by the Eskimos. Nothing daunted, another devoted pioneer, having first learned the Eskimo language, set out for Labrador, and, after a year of established the mission. Since then the work has not been allowed to languish. The three southerly stations of the mission, which are now framed during the brief summer in the green of luxuriant mosses, and in dwarf, hard-grown woods, and the three northern stations, built of whalebone and whaleblubber, lie exposed under the dark mountains. Hebron and Killinek, the most northerly stations of the mission, are situated in the interior of the Labrador peninsula, Kilinek being in a dry area. With an average temperature, much below freezing-point, it is the home of clouds, squalls, and blizzards. The son of a number of Eskimos, who find it a good fishing place for walrus, white whale, and seal.

It is the task of the Moravian missionaries to instruct the Eskimos in the house, father, with his wife and young children; and if the number of Eskimos makes it necessary also, an old man, a woman, and a layman to help with the work of the trade, the industrial, and the spiritual life of the station.

The trade done by the mission is of great value to the natives. The Eskimos and the Indians, who are the other articles to this mission store, and receive in return barrels of flour, fat, for fishing or hunting purposes, garments, and clothing, etc. The wages paid by the mission are high.

In the case of valuable skins the storekeepers pay a deposit at once, and when the skins have been deposited in the Loring's safe, the amount obtained, minus a small percentage, is handed over to the hunter. The Eskimos also show a marked interest in the barking account. He gets money as fast as he can, and a few months later often comes upon the mission funds as a starving pauper. As the Eskimos are not used to work and all the work, as well as to learn them the way of life like their tribe in an uncertain game, the mission is compelled to do the work for the people, and the rate of wage is paid good, but the Eskimos are not enthusiastic workers.

There is a definite reduction in the number of the natives, but the rate of exodus and all the time among the troublesome Indians and burning which often becomes so torturing to the Eskimos.

This ever present itching is what makes eczema so dreadful, and it is this feature to which Dr. Chase's ointment gives relief from almost the entire area.

There is an inflammation, redness, and soreness, and the skin is full of crust and all the time among the troublesome Indians and burning which often becomes so torturing to the Eskimos.

This ever present itching is what makes eczema so dreadful, and it is this feature to which Dr. Chase's ointment gives relief from almost the entire area.

Dr. Chase's ointment is not only delightfully soothing, but is a wonder in its capacity of healing the skin. It is not long before the sore, the sore is thoroughly cleaned, the tending subdued and the process of healing begins. Persistent relief is thus brought about.

This great ointment is always beneficial to the skin, making it soft, smooth and velvety, and, besides, it is the most effective treatment known for the cure of eczema.

Mother, use Dr. Chase's Ointment for the chilblains and skin troubles of the winter season. It is a valuable remedy for the cure of eczema, and for the cure of the skin troubles of the winter season.

As good as any ointment, Dr. Chase's Ointment is the best for the cure of the skin troubles of the winter season.

ARE YOUR HANDS CHAPPED?

Zam-Buk Will Cure Them.

The particular danger of chapped hands and cold cracks (apart altogether from the pain) is that the cold is likely to penetrate and set my hands to aching and burning. Still the chapping continues and when you melted set it to a boil. When rather less than ink-warm drop in the blanched kernels one by one and side by side. With a narrow, close pronged wire push them well under.

When ready a platter will be required, a piece of paper, and a piece of wire. The kernels will have been melted and the skins removed. Directly the skin is broken by a cut, graze, or scratch, or cracked and cracked by the action of the cold wind and water, the one necessary precaution is to apply Zam-Buk freely.

The pure herbal juices from which Zam-Buk is prepared are perfectly suited and suited to the immediate effect of the Zam-Buk dressings.

Latest Picture of Borden

This is the season to subscribe for a newspaper or to renew, if already a subscriber. Our paper is as good now and better than ever. Why not take it? It represents the welfare and progress of the community and district with which it is identified, and is, apart from its local value, an all-round, up-to-date newspaper.

The recent change of government has made the Hon. Mr. Borden the central figure of our Canadian public life. Many would like a good picture of him. We can supply one FREE. We will send anyone our paper for a year, and The Weekly Mail and Empire (the regular rate of which is $1.00 per year) for the same period, the two together, to include free picture of the New Canadian Premier, for $1.00.

The Borden picture is on fine paper suitable for framing, in photo prints, 16x24 inches. It is in itself a work of art, easily worth the price of a year's subscription to either paper.

Send all orders to office of this paper.

I do not believe there is any other medicine so good for whooping cough as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Francis Turpin, Junction City, Ont. This remedy is a 50-cent surpass for cords and croop. For sale by dealers everywhere.

November Rod and Gun

For the big game hunting month Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., still keeps big game stories well to the front in the November issue. Hunters on their annual vacation tent, those in camp and those returning, after fine experiences and with many pleasant recollections of recent and former outings, will all welcome the wealth of good stories contained in the latest issue. Donnycastle Dale opens the number with a full British Columbia study, which includes so fascinating to all layers of the population. More is heard about the moose, and still more about the moose, a large head having been secured by Mr. Rankin. A variety from the big game stories is introduced by one relating the adventures of a duck shooting expedition in Saskatchewan and a combined fishing and hunting trip in Nova Scotia. Angling readers should not miss the symposium by past masters in the art on some interesting fishing queries. The articles on the wild passenger pigeon and the surveying of a new Alpine district by Mr. A. O. Wheeler should by no means be overlooked. As usual there is so much good material running through the whole of the pages that it is impossible to mention more than a few of the most conspicuous good things in store for all readers.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by dealers everywhere.

A Trip Through Old Mexico

E. B. HESSEBERGER.

At one minute after 12 on Monday, March 2nd, 1908, I boarded a Santa Fe train out of Independence, Kan., for Kansas City, Mo., at which place I arrived at 6:40 p. m., called on my sister, Mrs. A. L. Fritch, took dinner with them and about 8:30 started out on Washington street where I spent the night with my brother-in-law, Mr. C. C. Lewis. Tuesday morning after a late break fast we went down town and about 1:30 p. m. I called at the office of Foster-Holcomb land company. Here Mr. Holcomb bought through tickets for nineteen of us to the City of Mexico. After this little business was transacted we all took a walk through the city, being interested in the architecture, which is very sharp, which we promptly did. At that hour we were marched to 12th and Baltimore Avenue to the Sexton hotel. Here we sat down to an elegant six course dinner given us by the Foster-Holcomb company. After supper the cigars and speeches from several of the boys. After spending four very pleasant hours, we started in a body for the union depot, where we found car No. 2518 awaiting us. This tourist Pullman was to be our home for about five days and we soon found our quarters. At 2:20 we left Kansas City behind us and did not awaken until we stopped Wednesday morning about 8:30 at Parsons, Kan., for breakfast. Here we were to be joined by five more boys, but found that they were on the section ahead of us. At 2:20 p. m. we stopped 20 minutes for dinner at South McAllister and at 3:40 p. m. we crossed the Red River into Texas where we stopped at the town of Alpine. We remained overnight at an inn there. We again started out at 8:30 a. m. and first, we ride all night in crossing Texas and stopped for breakfast at Austin. Since leaving Kansas City we have experienced quite a change in climate, for just Tuesday night everyone was wearing his overcoat to keep warm and this only Thursday morning and we all have our coats off and the car windows thrown open. The trees are very green. Here we see corn just coming up and farming and seeling is in full blast. Here the cotton fields stretch on either side of the railroad for miles and miles, here and there we see a little cabin which some colored family calls home. The apple and peach trees are all in bloom and it looks as if summer had suddenly come upon us. At 11:15, March 5th, we reach San Antonio, where we find we cannot leave until tomorrow morning at 9:15, this gives us time to see the sights of the south. Here we are to stop at the Hotel Alamo, the place where the famous Custer, Ben Milar, was killed and won the governor's daughter. The old doors of the palace have swung on the same hinges since 1716, the year of erection. Also the historic spot where Ben Milar was killed by Indian sharpshooters and buried within ten feet of where he fell. The great underground tunnel, being sixteen miles long, begins in this old palace. This tunnel connected with the spring, the Alamo and the guard house, where ammunition was stored. This was the way of protection from the savage tribes of Indians which infested the country at that time. The old Alamo was the next place of interest. Here is where 125 Texans held out against 6,000 Mexicans and all, including their leader, Davy Crockett, was killed within its old walls. After this we took a sight-seeing car and visited Fort Sam Houston, the resident part of the city. After a late supper we retired at various hours to our private car for the rest of the night.

We left this city at 9:15 Friday morning and our next stop was Eagle Pass, Tex., on the Rio Grande river and then into the Republic of Mexico. Arrived at Eagle Pass at 5:30 p. m. Here we are searched on the bridge and then on to Cu. Partido Diaz, Mexico, just across the river from Eagle Pass, Tex. Here we get our money exchanged and are off for the rest of the journey. Here we live a part of our lives over again, for time turns backward 36 minutes, and tonight, March 6th, we see the sun set in the Republic of Mexico instead of our own native land.

We have ridden all night and all day over a desert and mountainous land. We take dinner Saturday, March 7th, south of Torreon at Acacio. Again our afternoon ride is over a plateau about 5,000 feet high, surrounded by mountains. We stop for supper at Calares and pass through the ancient town of Zacatecas, the Jiménez of Mexico. Here we pass through one of the most fertile valleys in Mexico. Tropical fruit is every hand. Fine alfalfa fields and rich gardens lined with lovely flowers. Here we see the natives cutting alfalfa with hand sickles and carrying it with their arms and piling it up to await the cart that takes it to market. This a. m., Sunday, March 8th, we pass through Chihuahua, where Maximilian was executed some 40 years ago. Here we passed under the aqueducts that was built in the time of Cortez. This mammoth structure was about 12 feet in width and more than 3 miles long and some 35 feet high, carrying the water from one mountain across the valley to the city beyond. This structure was built without level or plumb and has withstood the storm for almost four centuries. The pretty little village of Japeto is situated in this fertile valley. At about 12:30 we took our Sunday dinner at San Juan Del Rio. Here our road winds through mountains and through the town and could see the little city across the side of the trail. It is a 2 1/2 block town, have a few houses, into the valley of Mexico. In this valley, our road follows for miles and miles along the side of the canal which Cortez has dug to drain the fertile valley. This ditch is about 30 miles in length, 100 feet wide and varying in depth from 10 to 80 feet, dug by hand, and the dirt and stones carried upon its banks in aprons, and after it was completed was found to be of no use as it would not drain the valley to any extent. We are now in the City of Mexico, the capital of the republic, at Hotel de la Reforma, where we arrived about 4 p. m. We all have good rooms and it feels like home again, after being in our car for five days.

After taking in a few sights we retire rather early. Monday morning, starting in the city. This p. m., the Fincamers Association drives us over the city, around the president's palace, Tepeyac, and visited the zoological gardens, passed by the bullring in the evening, including the old Spanish rings in Spain. Tuesday morning we visit the market and the old hotel where General Taylor and Santa Anna made their headquarters. Also this p. m. we visited ancient Guadalupe. Here we passed through the national cemetery. In this cemetery is one of actress. If not the finest marble statues in the world, not large but a very delicate piece of sculpture. Here in a very common tomb lie the remains of General Santa Anna.
